I have been in the Roaring Fork Valley for 30 years and have had my real estate license for 25 years. I have been actively engaged in the real estate industry with experience in residential development, affordable housing development and real estate sales.

The Stevens Group has produced several hundred residential units in Aspen, Pitkin County and Glenwood Springs, Colorado. My sales experience ranges from free market lots and single family homes in the several million dollar range, as well as organizing and implementing sales lotteries for affordable housing buyers.

Having been in the area so long enables me to bring a depth of understanding to the many different communities, public and private school options, as well as knowing the intimate traits of the many places to live.

I am also very committed and interested in preserving the remaining ranches and open space we have here in the valley and all that brings with it. The wildlife, the recreational activities and the health benefits of living in a clean environment. It's truly an amazing place to raise children and indulge them in all of the fine qualities this valley has to offer.
